

Simultaneous Storytime

Luna Roo the Kangaroo Baller by Adam Jackson, Adrian Lloyd and Jake A Minton

Leadership Qualities

Encourage students to consider leadership qualities Luna Roo demonstrates during the story and record them using this template. Which qualities from the list do students also have or would like to develop?

Hot Off the Press

Support students to create a news report celebrating Luna Roo and her team's victory. Encourage them to think about the location of the match, soccer facts, quotes from players and who their audience is. They could produce a written piece, recording or social media post.

Jeff and Gary Go Social

Invite students to craft their own social media posts direct from the commentators throughout the match. One at the beginning, middle and end of the story using this template.

Mascot for Inclusion

Invite students to create a mascot for the FC Outback team. Encourage them to think about how they can represent inclusion in their design.

Debating the Best Player

Invite students to work in small groups to select one animal from the soccer teams who they think would be the ultimate player. Hold a whole class discussion sharing arguments for their chosen animal and against other animals. Promote respectful dialogue.

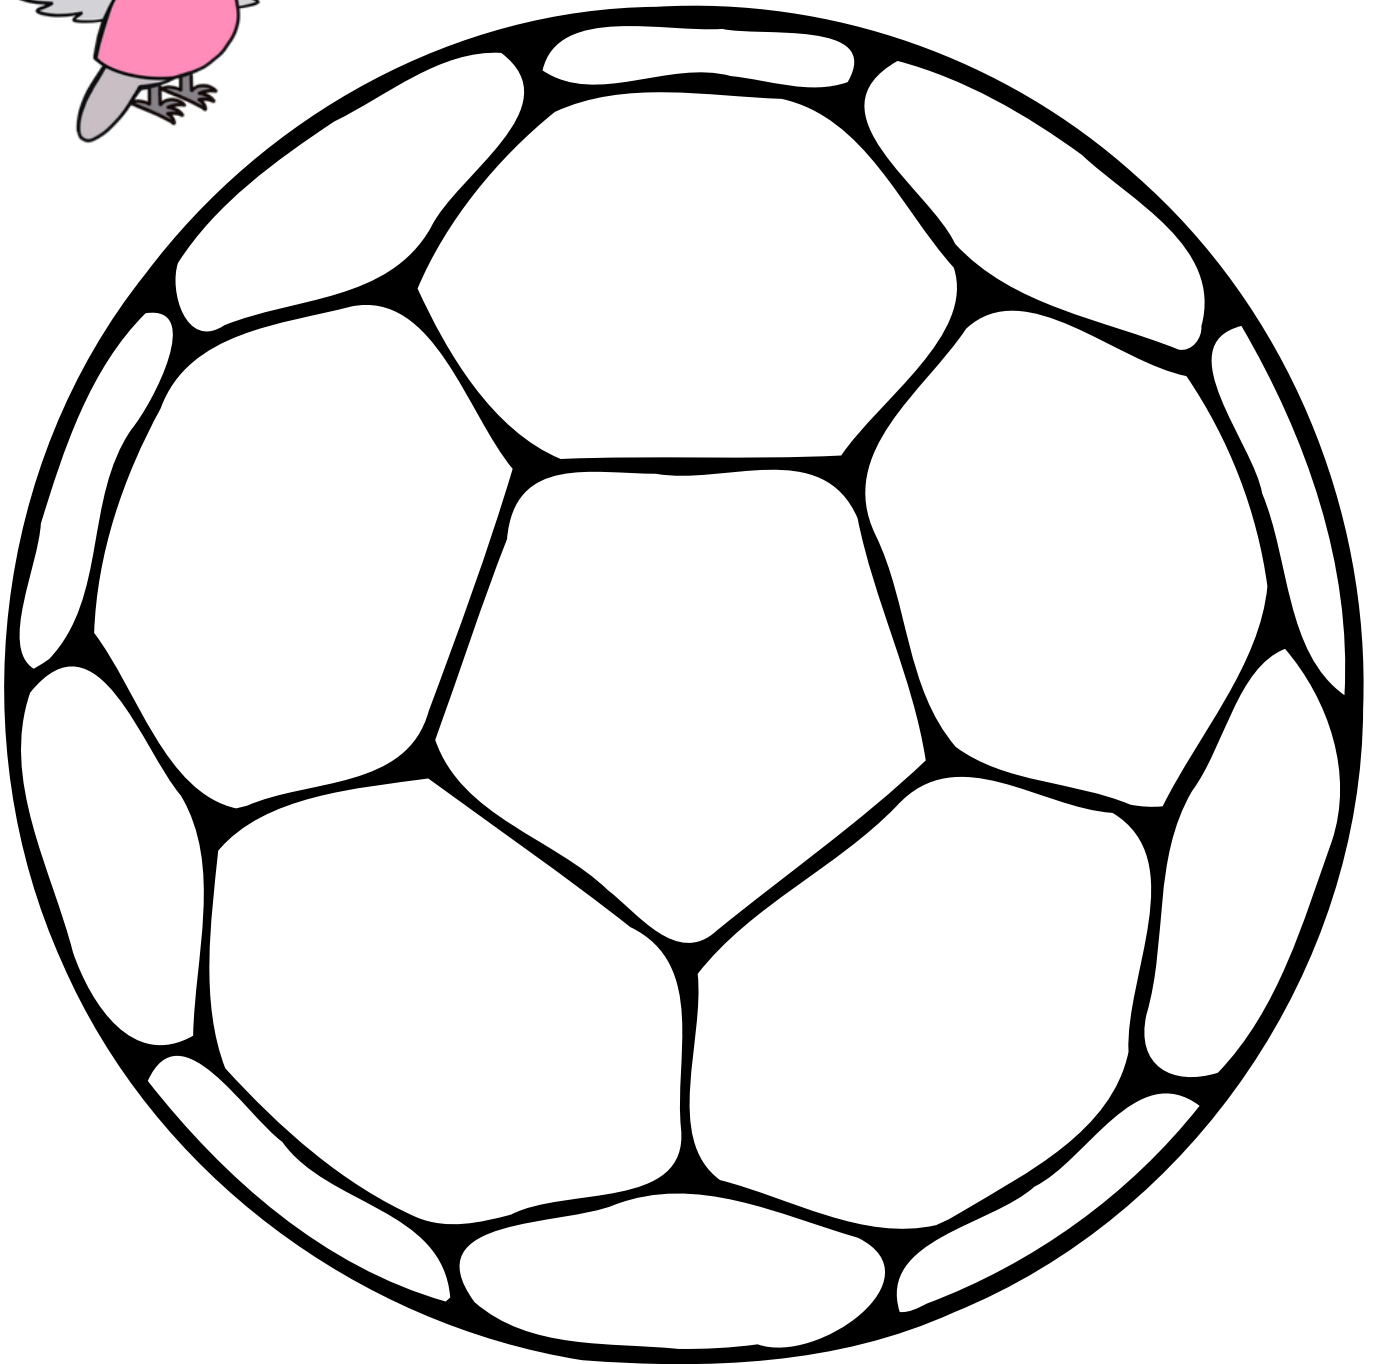

Trading cards

Assist students to design a set of trading cards for each for the players. Invite students to consider key attributes these animals have, quotes and key facts they can incorporate into the cards. Use this template to support.

Luna Roo Leadership Qualities

Take time to think about the leadership qualities Luna Roo demonstrated. Draw Luna Roo in the centre hexagon. Fill each hexagon around her with a picture and short description of different leadership qualities she showcased.

Jeff and Gary Go Social

Create a series of social media posts from commentators Jeff and Gary at different moments during the game.

Caption:

Caption:

Caption:

Player Trading Cards

Design a set of four trading cards including players from both sides of the game, FC Outback and Bush United. Think about the animals skills, unique talents and an inspiring quote.

